Happy
New Year

26

As we come to the close of 2025 and step into a brand-new year, our hearts are filled with gratitude, hope, and renewed determination. This year has been a journey of challenges, resilience, and countless lives touched.

At Bark India Charitable Trust, every rescue, every treatment, and every recovery has reminded us why compassion matters and why our work for the voiceless must continue, no matter how difficult the path. As we welcome 2026, we wish each one of you a year filled with good health, kindness, and peace.

We hope for a better, safer world for animals—where strays are treated with empathy, injuries are met with timely care, and suffering is replaced with healing.

Your support has been the backbone of our mission, and together, we look forward to creating a year of greater impact, stronger communities, and brighter futures for all lives we share this planet with.

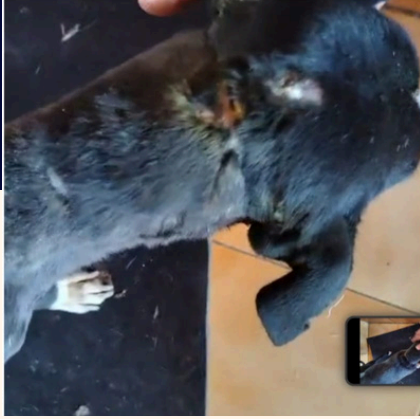

Rescue and Treatment- 110

From maggot infections to broken bones and prolapses, our team has been dealing with all kind of rescue cases in the month to make the life of voiceless better.

Each rescue is a hope- a hope for a better, healthier life forward.

He came with a tight PVC pipe trapped tight around his neck, that had been chocking him over a month. He went back as a healthy, neutered, vaccinated boy with a collar on neck.

Veterinary Surgeries- 68

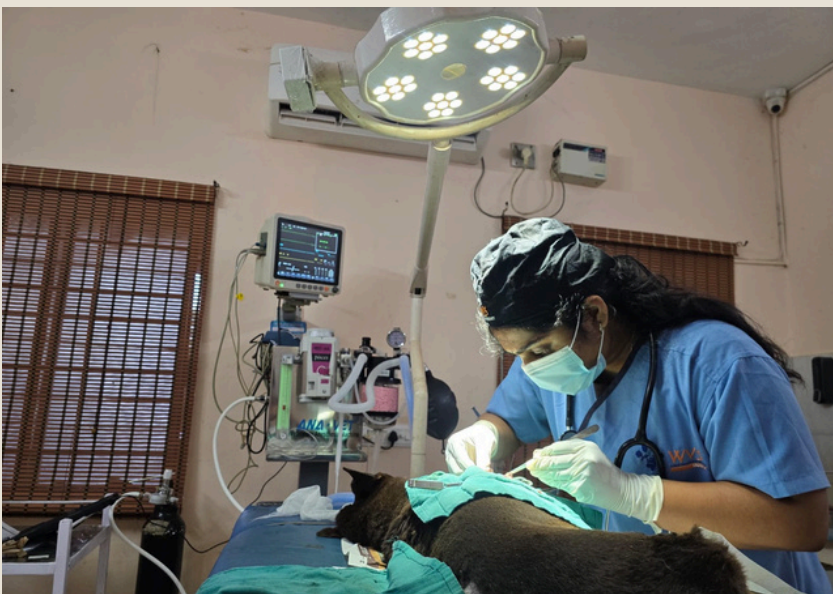

Our veterinarians performed 68 successful surgeries from hematomas to orthopedic surgeries, with the result of hopes for 68 lives.

YOU MATTER TO THEM

Throughout this year, you have been more than just supporters—you have been the strength behind every life we touched. You became the legs for our paraplegic animals, giving them dignity and mobility. You became the medicine for our wounded fur kids, helping them heal from pain, neglect, and trauma. In every rescue, surgery, and recovery, your support worked silently yet powerfully, making the impossible possible. More than anything, you have stood as the pillar we lean on to continue fighting for the voiceless.

Because of you, Bark India Charitable Trust could run its veterinary hospital, respond to emergencies, and provide lifesaving treatment to animals who had no one else. Your generosity fuelled our mission and kept hope alive where it was fading.

As we move forward into a new year, we humbly anticipate your continued support. Together, let us keep moving forward—rescuing, healing, and giving animals the life they truly deserve.
